The first installment of the Olive Hyde Art Guild History Project is live!

We hope the Olive Hyde Art Guild members and visitors to the website enjoy the insightful interviews, reminiscences and profiles of current and former presidents and esteemed members, Judy Anglin, Gail Blalock, and Joan Logan! A second and final installment of the history project will be made available later in the year.

A brief Q and A with Radhika Sharma about the Olive Hyde Art Guild History Project!

Q: How did the Art Guild decide to work on the History Project?

A: It is a wonderful story! I had been mulling the idea of creating a brief document that might encapsulate the history of the Art Guild and how it has evolved over the years and become a center of connection and art for the local community. Upon sharing my thoughts with the board, I was absolutely floored with the outpouring of support and suggestions for the project. It was soon approved, and several current and former members contributed their time and insights to the project.

Q: What was working on the project like?

A: It is a delightful project and working on it emphasized and underscored the importance of community in creating and keeping alive this legacy of art and community engagement in art.

Q: Any thoughts on the project that you would like to share with the Olive Hyde Art Guild members?

A: We welcome thoughts and inputs from all members for the History Project and would like it to be a document that speaks to all members and their interests. Thank you!

Here's something new... each month one of the "OHAG Jobs" will be in the spotlight with a few words from the position holder. Thanks to Lorrie Wong for being the first!

"My OHAG Job" – By Membership Chair, Lorrie Wong

I've enjoyed being the Guild's membership chairperson since 2015. My tasks are specific and remain constant from year to year. Knowing that June through August are my busiest months helps me to plan around it. The rest of year is simply maintenance. I enjoy organizing information, maintaining records and relying on my trusty computer to help me. Yes, I am a happy paper pusher. It fits my personality and lifestyle. But at the end of the day, I have the satisfaction of knowing that my work with the Guild is important and appreciated.

Board Highlights

- Great turnout for the reception. Honored to have Mayor Lily Mei and Irene Jordahl join. Excellent exhibit with a fresh new look. Reception very well executed with wonderful ambience, lighting, food, music and wine. Covid protocols followed diligently. Special shout out to Sana Chiang and Gloria Kim, Lauren Shaver and Karen Dobmeier for playing their parts flawlessly.
- The lights have been donated by the Guild to the City of Fremont.
- Show will be online till Oct 3rd and have had almost 500 hits so far. 4 sales closed already and one in the pipeline.
- Discussions for Programs/Field Trips still happening. A survey will be sent out to the members to get a feel for what the members are looking for.
- Ways and Means will meet and try to land on a date for the Calendar 2022 Holiday Show. Tricky business with the Covid uncertainty all around. City also has not finalized the 2021-2022 exhibition dates. Other ideas floating for a possibly online fundraiser.
- Around 170 members have renewed.

President's Message

Late Summer Greetings to All! Whether you are a new member or a returning member I want to say thanks for choosing to be a part of Olive Hyde Art Guild. As your new President I am thrilled to be working alongside a "full" Board – all positions filled with a remarkable slate of Officers & Chairpersons whose contributions will propel the Guild in continuing good works in the visual arts community and in supporting the Olive Hyde Art Gallery.

Gail Blalock, after serving as President for 2 years, continues on the OHAG Board with Ways & Means along with Joan Bobrink and Kate Mills. YAY! Gail's experience and leadership background will bring a lot to the table in planning a 2022 Holiday Show and other events.

Most exciting was the grand opening of the Olive Hyde Art Gallery with the public reception for OHAG's Members Juried Show. Under the still covid circumstances I want to recognize and thank Hospitality Chair Lauren Shaver for her excellent handling of the protocol and the additional layer of responsibility. Also, a special thanks to Karen Dobmeier for her work on securing and installing the new courtyard lighting system which received compliments galore!

That's all for now! I look forward to serving as OHAG President this year and I'm happy to receive any of your questions, concerns or suggestions. jang95@aol.com
