Consumer Couture; Wrapped in Conversation by Charlotte Kruk

"Genuinely purchased, meticulously unwrapped, consumed, and conscientiously collated, each wrapper is carefully stitched side by side to create new textiles, which beg to be evaluated... scrutinized." - Charlotte Kruk

The Olive Hyde Art Gallery features South Bay textile artist, Charlotte Kruk, in her new colorful exhibit featuring enchanting clothes sculptures made of candy wrappers, food packaging, and more! Come to our opening reception to see some of her work in action with models crinkling the dresses to life!

*Wednesday, October 27th 10am to Noon

Encore watercolor demonstration

With Meghana (Meg) Mitragotri

Oct 27 from 10 am – Noon by Zoom

Meghana (Meg) Mitragotri's first demonstration last month of her watercolor tips and techniques was so interesting and such fun that her audience has asked for a second demonstration. Please join this award-winning local artist for another virtual watercolor painting demonstration on October 27. For the main event Meg will do a floral painting and as a bonus she will surprise the audience with seasonal subject.

Check out her website for beautiful examples of her arts and crafts and learn more about her at www.daintlymade.com

For more information and to register go to <https://olivehydeartguild.org/>. After you register, a zoom link will be sent to you.

Congratulations!

Congrats to Robyn Leimer for paintings that were juried into the Monterey Bay Plein Air Painters Association's Member exhibit "Windows to the Bay" at the Gill Gallery at the Pacific Grove Art Center thru October 28, 2021. Paintings included are Along the Sonoma Coast and Foggy Morning Point Lobos.

She also has two paintings accepted into the California Art Clubs "Winter" exhibit at the Fe Gallery in Sacramento. Opening November 13 through Dec. 17, 2021. Paintings included are Winters Retreat and Winter Shadows.

Olive Hyde Courtyard Gardens

Huge thanks to OHAG members Esther Banuelos, Kate Mills, Emelie Rogers, and Nancy Ruskin for their efforts in cleaning out and sprucing up the courtyard garden area. They have been at it off and on for a couple of weeks, making good progress, but there is more to do. If you are interested we could use your help! Contact Judy Anglin – jang95@aol.com.

My OHAG Job – by Web Diva®, Lisa Stambaugh

I've been managing the OHAG website since March, 2007 – so coming up on my 15-year anniversary in the spring! Site updates include information about our regular programs, exhibits, newsletters, annual projects such as Scholarships and the Holiday Show & Sale, as well as special activities including the Members' Juried Show, last year's Project Mini-art selling canvases decorated by our member artists, and the recent publication of Radhika Sharma's "Art with a Heart" history project. In addition to the site's public-facing aspects, I handle the back-end maintenance, including backups, security scans, software update installation, and taking care of annual renewals for our domain, hosting, and security certificate.

President's Message

OHAG Pres Message for Oct Newsletter

- With the transitioning of seasons from summer into fall, suddenly it is noticeable that a lot is happening around OHAG. In general, I think members of the Guild are feeling inspired and ready to go!
- There is an energetic garden crew spending many hours in the Olive Hyde courtyard. They have been clearing out the buildup of unsightly debris and using their pruning shears to tidy up the plants. Thank you Kate Mills, Esther Banuelos, Emelie Rogers and Nancy Ruskin!
- The OHAG Scholarships Program has already begun. Enthusiastically and capably led by Dina Rubiolo, Gallery Director of Louie Meager Museum of Art at Ohlone College, applications and notification documents are now available to Fremont high school and Ohlone College art students and their school art teachers/instructors. Updates will follow but an in-person awards reception at Olive Hyde is planned for later in May of 2022.
- The Members Juried Show closed on October 3, making way for a new exhibit of South Bay textile artist Charlotte Kruk and her wearable sculpture. Entitled "Consumer Couture; Wrapped in Conversation", it promises to be a colorful and unique show. Models in the wearable artwork will parade throughout the courtyard at the Nov 5 opening reception. It should be loads of fun!
- Inspiration has come from board member Manveen Kalyanpur's creative ideas to enhance the courtyard area. She envisions mosaic embellished trash cans, fresh paint to brighten up courtyard wooden bench, trellis & fence, plus a few other surprises to make a more inviting setting for Gallery receptions and events at the art center. Manveen will explore these ideas with COF Recreation Superintendent Irene Jordahl and Recreation Supervisor Gloria Kim to see what is possible and how to proceed with initiating and funding such capital improvements for the Olive Hyde courtyard.
- While the city of Fremont owns the Olive Hyde Art Center & Gallery, it truly belongs to all of us, everyone in the Fremont community. We all benefit and are fortunate to have such a special art gallery in our midst. Gifted to the City of Fremont by Ms Olive Hyde in 1962, we need to take good care of it!

My thanks and best to all of you,
Judy Anglin

Board Highlights

- Board approved $600 towards the U-Haul transport and model stipend for the coming up Charlotte Kruk exhibit
- Board approved purchase of Sidewalk Chalkboard for the gallery
- Oct 21-23 approved for the Holiday Show in 2022- gallery booked week before through week after
- New name tags done and shoe bag will be setup for the next reception
- Coming up with some form of recognition for the business members
- Discussion of chalkboard placements during gallery exhibits
- Newsletter - still have printed copies, maybe we go fully online - more flexibility on the newsletter format
- Scholarship - Dina Rubiolo has come up with the applications and needs the date for the May exhibit for the awards
- Mosaic Trash Can - under consideration
- We sadly lost member Reba Moorman
