PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Guild Members,

The festive spirit is in the air, kicking off with an intense heatwave across the Bay Area. Fortunately, we've been spared for now and can expect perfect weather for the upcoming Gala, Holiday Show, and Sale this weekend! Behind the scenes, the Ways and Means Committee and other chairs are working hard to prepare. As you know, a show of this scale requires extensive coordination. During my recent visit to the Gallery, the tables were being set up, and trellises were already installed in the Mission Room—the excitement is definitely building!

We're also introducing new Square terminals for smoother cashiering this year, a small step toward improving the experience for everyone attending the Gala and Holiday Sale.

I'm incredibly proud to be part of an organization like OHAG and hope you feel the same. Let's each do our part—spread the word, buy tickets, invite friends and family, and contribute appetizers or desserts for the Gala. Most importantly, let's support our talented local artists by bringing home some of their handcrafted work.

Lastly, our final exhibit of the year promises to be something special: a unique showcase of paper-cutting art featuring contributions from local, national, and international artists. I'm eager to see it and continue to appreciate the incredible variety of exhibits we're fortunate to experience at the Olive Hyde Art Gallery.

My best regards to all of you,
Manveen Kalyanpur

Judy Anglin is the Arts Leadership Award recipient for District One of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors. Judy is a long-time Board Member and dedicated Volunteer of the Olive Hyde Art Guild (OHAG) which was founded in 1972. Judy has been a cornerstone of the OHAG, championing its mission to support the City of Fremont's Olive Hyde Art Gallery and promoting the visual arts within schools and throughout the Fremont community. For over 40 years, Judy has been an active volunteer and has held numerous positions on the Board of Directors, including three years as Board President. Currently, Judy leads a talented team in orchestrating the Guild's annual holiday fundraiser which is now in its 40th year. Judy also plays a vital role in fundraising by gaining sponsors, grant support, and donations. She collaborates on the annual Serra Center Art Workshop for developmentally disabled adults, and leads the Guild's bi-annual Members Juried Show. A talented watercolor artist herself, Judy takes particular pride in the Guild's efforts to provide art supplies, awards, and books to underserved children, youth, and seniors, enriching their lives through the power of art. Judy's unwavering commitment ensures the successful continuation of this important organization and the appreciation for the visual arts.

Dmitry Grudsky is one of two Arts Leadership Award recipients for District Two of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors. Dmitry is a Newark Visual Artist, Art Instructor and Community Volunteer working with many local groups and arts organizations in Alameda County. Dmitry specializes in watercolor painting and mosaic art. He has created an extensive number of mosaic tile public artworks for public schools, organizations and community spaces in Hayward, Fremont, Livermore, and Berkeley. With his paintings exhibited locally, nationally and internationally, he has received signature member status at several prestigious art associations including the Society of West Coast Artists, Northwest Watercolor Society, and California Watercolor Society. He continues to develop new ways to share his art and to encourage others to make art with the goal of positive change in our community.

SEPTEMBER PROGRAM FESTIVE HOLIDAY RAG WREATH

We had a fantastic turnout at our recent Rag Wreath Workshop, with 14 enthusiastic attendees joining in on the fun! Led by OHAG member Lisa Stambaugh, the workshop offered participants the chance to create beautiful handmade wreaths in either Thanksgiving or Christmas themes, perfect for adding a personal touch to their holiday décor.

The energy in the room was contagious, as both seasoned crafters and beginners dove into their projects with fabric, frames, and creativity. Each participant was provided with a materials kit, and Lisa guided the group step-by-step through the process, offering tips and tricks along the way. It was great to see so many unique interpretations come to life, each reflecting the maker's personal style.

The workshop was filled with laughter, creativity, and a wonderful sense of community. Many attendees left with not just a festive wreath, but also new friends, a new crafting skill, and ideas for possible future projects in other themes. A big thank you to everyone who participated!

Show Statement:

The phrase "pulling threads" metaphorically refers to the act of examining or unraveling the interconnected elements of a complex system or situation. It implies delving into the underlying structure woven from hundreds or thousands of threads that make up a larger whole, often with the intention of understanding its intricacies or revealing hidden connections. In the context of RoCoCo's exhibition entitled Pulling Threads, it suggests an exploration of the underlying themes, narratives, and shared conversations that have prompted the various projects they have produced over the years.

This exhibition brings together a core group of works encouraging viewers to seek and unveil the hidden connections between materiality and meaning.

Artist Bio:

Dr. KC Rosenberg and Modesto Covarrubias began collaborating in 2015, and formally launched RoCoCo in 2017. Early on they realized that when working together the potential for possible creative outcomes was greatly multiplied; indeed, two heads were better than one. RoCoCo's practice is a dialog of making, and each project begins with a conversation that continues as the work is produced. RoCoCo's work has been shown at Saddleback College in Mission Viejo, Idora Park Project Space in Oakland, and at Montalvo Arts Center in Saratoga, among other venues. RoCoCo were also artists-in-residence at the San Jose Museum of Quilts & Textiles in 2017. Dr. Rosenberg lives and works in Alameda, CA. Covarrubias lives in Berkeley and maintains a studio in West Oakland, CA. They both teach at California College of the Arts in San Francisco.

RoCoCo is short for Rosenberg Covarrubias Collaborative (or collaborations, conspirators, conversations, corporation, coalition, commentators, co-editors, collective, cohorts, etc.)
